We've just seen Matilda Jnr The Musical which is being brought to the stage at Theatre Royal Winchester by The Henry Beaufort School.

Is it brilliant? Yes. Is the cast so professional you'd be happy paying double to see it? Yes. Is Matilda uber-talented. Absolutely!

There are also strong performances by a really evil Miss Trunchball, suitably dim Mr and Mrs Wormwood, sweet-singing Miss Honey and cake-guzzling Bruce.

The supporting cast are a joy to watch - their song and dance routines slick and tight. And all of these actors are 16 or under.

And of course there have been lots of dedicated staff members making this all happen. Director Kim Miles and her team should be applauded for getting star quality out of so many students.

Book the last remaining seats while you can.
