

Subject: Design and Technology

Task 2

Write an exam question

The topic is scales of production.

Research the four main scales of production, you should aim to also associate a product with that scale of production.

Write an exam question for a friend to complete.

The aim needs to be to get them to show they not only know what each scale of production is and what skill level the work force are but also a product made using it.

You may want to pick two rather than all four scales of production.

Complete the mark scheme to go with your question.
Remember to mark examples as well as the answer.
